STORY

Holzrausch plans, designs and builds furniture which allows architecture to unfold to its full potential through a dialogue with space. The focus is on the interior remodeling of private and public spaces by applying extensive expertise in the planning and manufacture of high-quality kitchens. Every design and every implementation is a truly unique solution.

Since inception, Tobias Petri, and Sven Petzold have brought together a closely interlinked network of architects, interior designers, wood engineers, surface technicians, master craftsmen, journeymen, and apprentices. People with personality work at Holzrausch. Their expertise and hard work give the furniture and interior fittings their distinctive character. The team shares a passion for the materials, the continual search for intelligent functionality and a delight in experimentation.

Wood, glass, steel, natural stone and cement are all materials that play a big role for these creators. The individual composition of the material gives each object its own special character. For every project, a great deal of time is invested in selecting quality materials that age well and can become a part of the design of the products. This quality shines through and will be enjoyed for many years to come.

When dealing with interior spaces, Holzrausch follows an integrated approach: planning, design, and production are done in close collaboration with all those involved. They apply their design language to everything they do. But they also work together with building owners, architects, and planners to implement their design wishes.

Holzrausch's signature forms are a characteristic trademark. Concentrating on the essentials has led to the creation of a timeless, minimalist design language. Great value is placed on the emotional effect of material and on every single detail. In this manner, every piece created has its own personality, an expression of the highest demands on quality and craftsmanship. Work from Holzrausch can be found predominately in Germany – but more and more exclusive interior designs are being implemented all across Europe.
